City roads turn make-shift garbage dumps

Mysuru, July 15 (MTY&BCT)- Even as residents of this Heritage City are taking pride as Mysuru figures in the Top-10 list of India's cleanest cities, tonnes of garbage, plastic waste, vegetable and fruit waste, metal parts of vehicles, seats and cushions, animal waste, construction debris, waste household furniture are daily being dumped at different city roads.

Some of these roads are Ring Road near Rayanakere Waste Treatment Plant on Kamanakerehundi Road, Devanoor Lake Bund, Thandi Sadak Road between Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens and Karanji Lake and Uthanahalli near the Jwalamukhi Tripurasundaridevi Temple.

Though there are designated waste treatment plants that take these waste, many residents, work contractors, slaughterhouse men come to these places under the cover of darkness and dump truckloads of garbage and animal waste every night. Not stopping at this, they set fire to the garbage.

Animal waste is filled into cement bags and dumped along the road sides in newly-formed layouts along the Ring Road. Residents and travellers on this road told Star of Mysore that at nights, there is plenty of activity on these roads where trucks arrive and dump waste. They alleged that they have even found Kerala-registered trucks dumping garbage here.

Periyapatna woman, who disappeared two years ago, to reunite with family soon

Mysuru, July 15 (HDR&BCT)- A woman from Periyapatna who is at present lodged at Himachal Hospital of Mental Health and Rehabilitation at Shimla will soon be brought to Mysuru to be reunited with her family.

The Mysuru District Administration is making all efforts to bring her back to her hometown and the process of getting her to Mysuru has already begun with Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar discussing the issue with Women and Child Welfare Department and doctors at the Shimla hospital.

The woman, 40-year-old Saraswathi, alias Padma from Makanahalli Palya near Kampalapura at Periyapatna, went missing two years ago. Her mother Parvathamma, brother Harish, sister Lakshmi and her husband Krishnamurthy live at Makanahalli. Parvathamma has six children and five among them are girls. Saraswathi is Parvathamma's eldest daughter and was given in a marriage to Dharanesh of Vaddarahatti village, Channarayapatna in Hassan district 19 years ago. The couple had no children and Dharanesh married another woman. Due to this, Saraswathi went into depression and later Dharanesh abandoned her.

Saraswathi later came to her mother's house at Makanahalli Palya and after some time told her mother that she would go in search of her husband. Meanwhile, Dharanesh told her family members that Saraswathi had gone to Bengaluru to work in a garment factory. After that the family never got in touch with Saraswathi.

A depressed and dejected Saraswathi boarded a train from Channarayapatna and reached Chandigarh and then New Delhi. Seeing her condition, the Police admitted her to Rajendra Prasad Hospital at Kangra in Himachal Pradesh from where she was shifted to Himachal Hospital of Mental Health and Rehabilitation, Shimla as her mental condition was not stable and was worsening due to depression.

Portraits on leaf skeletons

Mumbai: Mumbai-based artist Sandesh S. Rangnekar paints detailed works of art on fragile skeleton peepal leaves. Rangnekar learned the ancient art of peepal leaf painting from his father, acclaimed artist Sadashiv G. Rangnekar. Fascinated by his father's skills, Sandesh started sneaking into his art studio when he was 10-years-old and slowly but steadily mastered the traditional art form. He always made sure to leave the studio before his father came home, so he had no clue of his son's artistic talent, and the first time Sandesh shared one of his early works with him, he was impressed. So much so that he encouraged the boy to use his paints and brushes from then on.

Talk by herpetologist

to mark World Snake Day tomorrow

Mysuru, July 15- Snakes are incredible creatures, and our world is groaning with at least 3,000 different species that are slithering their way around our planet. The 16th of July is being celebrated as World Snake Day.

An important contribution of World Snake Day is to the cause of conservation of sometimes dangerous but mostly misrepresented reptile. Snakes live on every continent except Antarctica, and can vary from 32 feet long pythons to tiny vine snakes. Only about one-fourth of all snakes are venomous, and all of them would much rather avoid human contact if they could. Maximum snake bite incidents occur when humans inadvertently step on or otherwise disturb the peaceful creatures. India, with all its stereotypes of snake-charmers, is home to only four venomous snake species, but many destructive superstitions and myths.

World Snake Day, conservationists hope, can help remove people's fears and illusions about snakes, and help them gain recognition as a marvellous adaptable apex species. World Snake Day can be used as a tool to educate and inform people about how to deal with snakes, whom to call, resources available to them etc.

In this context, Mysuru Zoo is celebrating the snake kingdom and creating awareness of these limbless creatures, trying to shed some light on the most unscientific myths. A talk by herpetologist, Balasubramanyam (Snake Shyam) has been organised on July 16 at Zoo auditorium from 4 pm onwards. Interested people may register their names via e-mail zoomysore@gmail.com or by calling Zoo office on Ph: 0821-2440752/ 2520302 before July 16. Entry is free.

Also, attractive Information Boards and Fun Facts Boards about snakes will be on display in front of the enclosure on July 16 from 10 am to 5.30 pm.

- A group of tortoises is called a creep. Tortoises have an exoskeleton and an endoskeleton. The scales on the carapace are called scutes. They can't swim, but tortoises can hold their breath for a long time. Sulcatas are one of the most popular pet tortoises— and one of the biggest. They're the ultimate conservationists. They can smell with their throats. They might be smarter than we thought. Tortoise eggs incubate between 90 to 120 days to hatch out. Tortoises with domed shaped shells graze on grass and any low growing vegetation.

VOICE OF THE READER

A Professor remembers his days in Kodagu

Sir,

Apropos the letter titled 'A Mysurean's tryst with Kodagu' published in Star of Mysore dated July 11, I want to narrate my experience of staying in Kodagu from 1962 to 1966 being a former native of Hunsur.

In 1962, I was directed to a school in South Kodagu by my College Professor whom I happened to meet on Sayyaji Rao Road, Mysuru. Since Kodagu is adjacent to Hunsur, I thought, as a fresher, that I can go and work there and teach English to students.

When I landed at Balele in Kodagu, I was mesmerised by the beauty of nature around the school which was situated amidst a coffee plantation dotted by orange trees. There wasn't any other building near the school except an asphalted road on which buses used to ply from Gonikoppal to Balele — four or five buses used to ply on this road every day. It was a rare sight for us to see the buses so clean and punctual. The crew of the bus was so co-operative and social, that the passengers used to feel that all of them were the members of the same family.

There was a valley near the school and down below, there was a stretch of land which belonged to the school just like a part of the coffee plantation around the school. It was used to cultivate paddy and rain water was the only source of irrigation. The valley was so beautiful that we used to stand at the rim and enjoy the beauty especially during rainy season and winter amidst thick mist. There was an old house at the rim of the valley and from there we used to enjoy the beauty of the rising sun over a cup of piping-hot Coorg coffee.

Boys playing hockey was a feast to the eyes at the school field which was close to the valley. But that side rim was covered by trees and other vegetation.

This year's rainfall reminds me of the continuous rain in Kodagu for about five days which locked us up in the school building which was our residence too. We spent our days playing carom, chess, hearing radio. There was no electricity and tap water during that time. I have gone to that place many a times even after leaving that place about 52 years ago to recapitulate the memory.

Twin waterfalls come alive at Shivanasamudra

Tourists throng Bharachukki-Gaganachukki waterfalls

By Siddalingaswamy

Chamarajanagar, July 15- Bharachukki in the district, popularly called the Niagara Falls and the Gaganachukki in Mandya district have come fully alive after many years following continuous rains in the catchment area of Cauvery and Kabini.

The majestic waterfalls from a height of 100 feet and are a sight to behold and the cool breeze that flows invokes a sense of tranquillity. Nearly 50,000 cusecs of water is being released from Kabini and in the light of this, the world famous Gaganachukki and Bharachukki is in full flow inviting the tourists with open hands.

Both waterfalls which looked dry and barren in summer are now fully flowing and its sound is music to one's ears. As the news of the waterfalls in full flow spread, tourists are thronging the twin waterfalls of Shivanasamudra, Gaganachukki (Mandya district) and Bharachukki (Chamarajanagar district), which are separated by nearly 2 kms.

They are coming on bikes, cars, tempos in thousands with their friends and family to enjoy this unique sight after a long gap. Even the lovers are filling their eyes with the spectacle and with the selfie craze, everyone is taking photos with the background of the waterfalls.

Security tightened

Keeping the security of people in mind and to see that no untoward incidents occur, the entry to the foot of the waterfalls has been banned. The gates at the top have been locked and covered with thorny bushes. Hence, no one is allowed to go near the waterfalls. However, all arrangements have been made to view the seasonal waterfalls. A tower has been constructed and all the tourists can safely view the Bharachukki waterfalls. A park has also been developed for children with the play equipment installed.

Tourism Dept. has also constructed toilets thus providing one of the basic necessities. Police security arrangements have been made at both the waterfalls. With the release of water from Cauvery reservoir, the flow is going to further increase and this will add to the beauty of waterfalls.

It is a joy to watch the Bharachukki-Gaganachukki waterfall. I had come here when the Tourism Department had conducted 'Jalapathotsava.' I have come again and it is difficult to describe the experience in words. This year too, the Government must conduct Jalapathotsava.

—Kiran, Tourist, Bengaluru

I am coming here for the second time. The first time when I had come here, there was not so much of water and we could go down to the base of the waterfalls in a coracle paying Rs.50. Now, they have banned the entry. Still it is a treat to the eyes to watch the waterfall from a distance.

—Aruna, Tourist, Mysuru

Dhanushkoti waterfalls attract tourists

Chunchanakatte, July 15 (Madhu&NNN)- Even as the tourists are thronging the twin waterfalls, Barachukki-Gaganachukki in the Shivanasamudra range, the scene is no different here with Dhanushkoti waterfalls in full flow.

With the heavy rains since the last three to four days, Cauvery, the lifeline for Mysuru and Mandya farmers, is full and hundreds of tourists are visiting the place.

The Cauvery River takes birth at Talacauvery in Kodagu district and reaches the KRS reservoir in Mandya district. Before it reaches here, the water falls from a height of more than 60 feet like milk foam which is attracting the tourists in hordes. They are capturing the magical moments on their cameras and mobile phones apart from clicking selfies.

Since a tragedy occurred in this place recently with a scientist being washed away, the Taluk Administration has provided full security near the waterfalls. The tourists are first visiting Anjaneya, Kodandarama and Seetha Devi Temples near the banks of the river and then going to watch the spectacle of the waterfall. The public, who are visiting the place, strongly feel that there should be a 'Yatri Nivas' in the place.

Video of Class 8 boy narrating Kodagu's rain woes goes viral

Kallira Fateh catches Chief Minister's attention; Kumaraswamy promises help

Madikeri, July 15 (PS&BCT)- While many people have expressed their dissatisfaction about Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) for not sanctioning any funds to Kodagu in his Budget, this little boy from Yemmemadu village near Napoklu takes the cake. In a video that has gone viral, the boy vents his anger at the CM and at the same time highlights how Kodagu is ravaged by rain and how man-animal conflict has made lives miserable in this tiny district.

In the video, the Class 8 student, Kallira Fateh, son of Kallira Ummar and Rukya, says the district which has given River Cauvery to Mysuru, Mandya, Bengaluru and Tamil Nadu has got nothing from Kumaraswamy.

Hailing from a farming and daily wager family, Fateh, holding an umbrella, is seen pleading with the CM to provide relief to the rain-affected Kodagu farmers. Taking a dig at the Chief Minister for 'neglecting' Kodagu district in the Budget, Fateh said, "Mysuru, Mandya and half of Tamil Nadu get water, if it rains in Kodagu district. But the unrelenting rain has destroyed coffee, pepper, areca and paddy crops in Kodagu."

"The wild elephant menace is on the rise in Kutta, Birunani, Balele and Ponnampet because of which daily wagers and agriculture farmers fear to venture out of their houses. The rain-battered Kodagu-Kerala Road has become non-motorable. "Who should people approach to get their problems addressed? It is you (CM), who else," he said.

He continued, "Kumaraswamy has meted out injustice to Kodagu by not sanctioning grants to Kodagu and added that the CM should treat all districts equally."

The boy then addressed BJP State President B.S. Yeddyurappa to impress upon Prime Minister Narendra Modi to announce compensation for the distressed farmers.

"Modiji is Prime Minister for 130 crore people of the country. He should treat people of all religions and castes on equal footing. This holds good for the CM too," Fateh said.

The video went viral and reached the CM too. Kumaraswamy told reporters in Bengaluru that since Independence, many rulers have come. "Why am I being targeted, that too after taking charge just two months ago? I know about the problems faced by people of Kodagu. I will visit Kodagu and stay there for two days and hear the grievances of people and solve their problems," he said. Fateh's father Umar said his son was pained by the destruction of standing crops on 3,500 acres of paddy fields in the village.

"Our paddy field has been waterlogged for the past 13 days. No official or people's representative visited our area. In our village, we get electricity only for six months a year. All this upset him," he said. "I'm happy that the State Government and the CM have responded to our demands," he said.

Periyapatna woman to reunite with family

Saraswathi's mother Parvathamma and her brother Harish.

Mysuru District Administration officials visiting the family of Saraswathi who is at present in Shimla.

Saraswathi's story was published in a local daily in Himachal Pradesh and the same was tweeted by a news agency. Following reports in the media, Suneela Sharma, a social welfare activist at Himachal Pradesh, brought the case to the notice of Himachal Chief Minister Jayaram Thakur who assured help. Later, Dr. Sanjay Pathak, Senior Medical Superintendent of Himachal Hospital of Mental Health told reporters that Saraswathi has recovered from her illness and was waiting for her family members to take her home.

Dr. Sanjay Pathak then wrote to Himachal Government Health Department that Saraswathi has recovered and the Department sent the communication to Karnataka Health Department and the report was forwarded to Mysuru District Mental Health Project Officer.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Dr. Sanjay Pathak said that Saraswathi was admitted to Shimla hospital two years ago and she has recovered. "We have conveyed the same to Mysuru DC and we are waiting for her family, officers and Police from Mysuru to take her back," he said.

Her family members including mother Parvathamma, who is suffering from a heart ailment, are happy that Saraswathi has finally been traced. But they have expressed their inability to accept her immediately. "We are poor daily wagers and my mother-in-law and my brother-in-law Harish live with me as their house has collapsed a year ago. At present, it will be difficult for us to accommodate Saraswathi. The authorities can put her in a destitute home in Mysuru and we can take her after Parvathamma's house is reconstructed. The State Government and the Gram Panchayat have sanctioned Rs. 1.96 lakh for Parvathamma to build her house that is half completed now," said Krishnamurthy, Saraswathi's brother-in-law.

Meanwhile, Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar told SOM that the process of bringing back Saraswathi has begun. "District officers have already visited her place at Makanahalli Palya and spoke to her family members. As her family has expressed inability to take her back at this juncture, we will have to temporarily accommodate her at Shakthidhama (rehabilitation centre for women) at the foot of Chamundi Hill," he said.

"I spoke to Dr. Sanjay Pathak yesterday night. We will work on the logistics and the team which will go to Shimla, and very soon we will bring back Saraswathi to Mysuru. The formalities will be worked upon by the district administration, in consultation with the concerned departments in Bengaluru and Shimla," the DC added.

New FKCCI President
Sudhakar Shetty felicitated

Minister S.R. Mahesh is seen felicitating FKCCI President Sudhakar S. Shetty, along with his wife Sukhalatha Shetty, at Mysuru Hotel Owners' Association premises in Krishnamurthypuram in city this morning as others look on.

Mysuru, July 15 (MTY&DM)- Newly elected FKCCI (Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry) President Sudhakar S. Shetty, who hails from the city, was felicitated at a programme organised by Hotel Owners' Association and Hotel Owners' Association Charitable Trust, Mysuru, at the Association premises located in Krishnamurthypuram here this morning.

Minister for Tourism and Sericulture S.R. Mahesh, speaking as the chief guest on the occasion, said that Sudhakar Shetty has risen to great heights by his sheer dedication and determination.

Recalling that Sudhakar Shetty started his career from zero balance and later went on to become a renowned hotelier of the city due to his hard work, Mahesh said that Shetty has achieved big not only in hotel industry but in other sectors as well, before becoming the chief of the State's industrial body.

Recounting Shetty's step-by-step achievements over the past three decades, Mahesh said that Sudhakar Shetty is a model to present day entrepreneurs.

When one among the audience raised Mysore Race Course (MRC) row, Mahesh said that he came to know through a newspaper report in 2006 that the MRC was in confrontation with the Golf Club over payment of rent to it. He discussed the same with the then Mysuru DC P. Manivannan, when he learnt that the MRC was paying a meagre rent to PWD, which owned the MRC land. Later on, he took up the issue and succeeded in ensuring that the MRC paid two percent of its income to the Government as tax.

Referring to the proposed shifting of MRC to another location, Mahesh maintained that it was a move aimed at further boosting of tourism in Mysuru region and he had no personal interest in this.

Stating that the MRC has been given three months deadline for demolition of all unauthorised sheds and dwellings inside its premises, Mahesh said that after the expiry of the deadline, all the unauthorised structures will be demolished.

Sudhakar Shetty, his wife Sukhalatha Shetty and Minister S.R. Mahesh were felicitated on the occasion.

Mysore Hotel Owners Association President C. Narayanagowda presided.

KPHRA Bengaluru Vice-President Ravi Shastri, Association office-bearers Ugraiah, Corporator Jagadish and others were present.

Driver's presence of mind saves passengers from getting electrocuted

Madikeri, July 15 (PS&KS)- The presence of mind of a KSRTC bus driver, who veered the vehicle to his right side, prevented bus passengers and himself from being electrocuted after an electric pole along with a transformer fell just a couple of feet away in the front of the bus this morning.

The bus with about 30 passengers in it left Madikeri bus stand to Madapur in Kodagu. As the bus was proceeding on Madapur road near MLA Appachu Ranjan's house in Madapura, the driver noticed an electric pole with a transformer beginning to lean towards the road and immediately veered the bus towards his right side into a ditch. Within seconds, the electric wires snapped and the pole, transformer and a couple of trees fell right in front of the bus just a couple of feet away from the bus.

Had not the driver veered towards his right, the power lines would have fallen on the bus and a major tragedy would have taken place. But for the presence of mind of the driver, he prevented a tragedy from happening.

As the news about the incident spread, the Forest Department and CESC officials rushed to the spot. While CESC staff removed the electric pole, transformer and wires from the road, Forest staff cut the trees and cleared the road and made way for smooth flow of traffic on the road, which was disrupted for about two hours.

Kamanakerehundi Road has become a massive landfill and the whole area stinks with the smell of rotting animal waste permeating the air. "We cannot move on this road as we are blinded by thick smoke and we must hold our noses due to foul smell," said a resident. The place has become a haven for street dogs and on an average, there are 100 to 200 dogs here at any point of time, said another resident.

"People who come with huge tippers to dump the waste here say that the land belongs to them and they are dumping the waste onto their own land," says another resident. Such dumping of wastes on this road has to be stopped as they are posing a threat to the neighbourhood with schools, colleges and hospitals around, he added.

Another make-shift landfill has mushroomed on the Thandi-Sadak Road. A security guard at the Zoo alleged that a computer centre located in city has dumped tonnes of plastic computer waste on the road. "We have lodged complaints many times but no one in the MCC seems to be interested," he said.

A Trojan Horse called Botanical Garden

By R. Chandra Prakash

Mysore Race Course (MRC) is a very important and unique heritage institution of Mysuru city. How many cities in our country can boast of a Race Course? It would be highly myopic to perceive horse-racing purely from the point of view of betting or as a wager or a social evil. Wherever racing is practiced, it is considered as a sport or pastime. In the case of Mysuru, our Race Course is a part of our cultural ethos.

Mysore Race Course (MRC)is a nearly a hundred-year-old institution. How many cities in our country can boast of a Race Course? It would be highly myopic to perceive horse-racing purely from the point of view of betting or as a wager or a social evil. Wherever racing is practiced it is considered as a sport or pastime. In the case of Mysuru, our Race Course is a part of our cultural ethos.

Our Maharajas gave the country first-ever integrated and planned development. Here social development was as important as economic development. Emphasis was as much on education as on other cultural traits. Mysuru city was adorned with large and beautifully chiselled gardens, which gave the city the epithet of Garden City. These gardens were further beautified with Fountains. Boulevards, road side trees, well-laid out footpaths and specially moulded lamp-posts constituted parts of this once beautiful city. Museum presented this cultural ethos of the State; and the skill development was ensured through Chamarajendra Technical Institute (CTI).

Our Maharajas also gave this city K.R. Mills, Silk Filature and Sandal Oil Factory as part of economic development and ensured their growth through annual Dasara Exhibition. And, therefore, Race Course should be seen as a part of that grand integrated socio-economic heritage of the city. Today one cannot see only Zoo as a heritage of the city, and ignore its twin brother in the Race Course. Both of them constitute very important part of city's heritage, which is becoming highly fragile day by day.

A Trojan Horse

Our newly-minted Minister for Tourism is assuring us that he would develop a Botanical Garden after shifting the present Race Course. Going by the integrity of our political leaders, this is what a proverb in Kannada beautifully sums up: Moogige Thuppa Savaruvudu — that is fooling a person with small smear of ghee on the nose tip and leaving him with a chloroform effect of it !

Our Horticulture Department, once known for its competence of world order, is now a dead horse. There are no trained experts left, both in expertise and numbers. One should visit the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) to see the fate of so-called Horticulture Section — despite huge budgetary allocations there is no one to execute the planned development of our Parks. The fate of our Forest Department is no better, if one were to see the condition of our Urban Forestry section.

There are about 600-plus identified Parks in the city. Forget about the Parks in the extensions, even the Parks in the city centre are in a pathetic condition. We as children used to play in Nishad Bagh (Kuppanna Park) beside the old Hardinge Circle. It has lost much of its area to all-round road widening. And it is bifurcated with a wall further reducing its area. In that, MCC is struggling to rebuild what was once a beautiful glass house. Today, it only provides greenery for the hotels around the Park !

Let us take the example of Peoples' Park. The entire area has been divided and sub-divided. Part of it was lost in road widening, which is now a good parking space for buses, lorries and cars of visitors to hotels and other commercial establishments. And substantial part in the South is lost for upcoming Public Library building. Worse is to come around this Park soon.

The present City Bus Stand was a Park, lost forever. The Parks on either side of Albert Victor Road are reduced to a farce.

Therefore, when our Tourism Minister announces that he would develop a Botanical Garden, how can he be trusted? My trip to Singapore last week of June makes me highly skeptical of our politicians. Singapore has one of the best Botanical Gardens in the world, and also the wonderful Gardens by the Bay. Their Jurong Bird Park and the Zoo are as much Botanical Gardens as they are Bird Park and a Zoo. During our visit to the Botanical Garden it was a month of Orchids, and what a rich collection it was ! So aesthetically presented!! The other part of this Garden was closed to public for preparing it for exhibition of new and different species of flowers soon.

We have lost much of our heritage in the fall of Lansdowne Building, destruction of Makkaji Chowk, and dilapidated condition of Devaraja Market. We have lost most of our Parks and Gardens. Town Hall multi-storeyed parking and Raja Marga are sufficient proof of competence of our engineers and political leaders.

Therefore, our humble request to our political leaders — Please don't destroy the heritage of this city. Leave our Race Course and Golf Course. Use whatever is left of it, by improving the Palaces and remaining Parks and Gardens for the development of tourism.

Kote said, "I am a native of this region, H.D. Kote, but, the choice of Mysuru for Navikothsava is due to its prominence as the cultural capital of the State. The event is being held under the guidance of Suresh Ramachandra, President of Navika and Prakash Banavar, Convenor, both of whom have homes in the city, besides in Bengaluru."

Co-chair of Navika India Committee Shree Shailan said that the programmes will begin at 4 pm on Aug.4 and will be held from 10 am to 6 pm on Aug.5.

Deadline of Aug. 2

for Kodagu home stays to register

Madikeri, July 15 (PS&BCT)- Tourism and Sericulture Minister S.R. Mahesh has given a deadline of Aug.2 for all home stays in Kodagu to register. He warned that unregistered home stays will face action if they do not get registered by then.

Addressing a press conference in Madikeri, the Minister said, "Only 242 home stays are legal and the rest of the home stays, estimated to number around 357, in Kodagu are operating illegally to avoid scrutiny. Requirements for registration are being violated. Some home stays are operating resorts in the name of home stays to avoid payment of taxes. Many of these owners run a chain of such properties, in clear violation of the guidelines," the Minister said.

"Stringent action will be taken against those who fail to register by the deadline," he said. Mahesh said that home stays near rivers should give priority to cleanliness and make sure that waste water is not released to rivers. The Minister also warned agencies from Kerala against conducting a survey in South Kodagu on the proposed Railway line between Mysuru and Thalassery. "If the work is carried out, strict action will be taken against them," said Mahesh, adding that the Karnataka Government will not allow the Railway line.

Illustrious Saint Thirunavukkarasu

Ancient South India and Tamil Nadu in particular had the good fortune of giving birth to many illustrious Shaiva and Vaishnava saints who were also social reformers.

There lived a couple Pugalanar and Madiniyar in a small village called Thiruvamur situated in South Arcot district of Tamil Nadu. They had a daughter Thilakavatiyar and a son Marulnikkiyar. The latter became famous as Thirunavukkarasu. Thilakavatiyar was married to Kalippagainayanar. He was also Shaiva saint. He fought for the sake of his king but unfortunately died in the battle. Unable to bear this suffering, Thilakavatiyar wanted to end her life. But to give guidance to her brother Marulnikkiyar, Thilakavatiyar decided to live and not to end her life. This proved a great boon to Marulnikkiyar.

At that time Jainism was popular not only among the royalty but also among masses. Many people embraced that faith and even Marulnikkiyar. But Thilakavatiyar remained a Shaiva devotee and wanted her brother too to follow Shaiva faith but she did not compel him. Thilakavatiyar went to a Shaiva temple and took active part in temple activities at Thiruvadiaivirapattanam. She hoped that one day her brother would come back to the Shaiva faith. She prayed for a miracle.

Marulnikkiyar was afflicted with some disease which could not be cured by local doctors. At this time, as if Lord Shiva heard Thilakavtiyar's prayer, a miracle happened. Marulnikkiyar, who had assumed the new Jaina name Dharmasena, informed his sister of his ailment and requested her to cure him.

Thilakavatiyar asked him to have patience and also faith in the remedy she is going to suggest. The pain of the illness was horrible and unbearable and Thirunavukkarasu was prepared to surrender to any god of any faith or pantheon. His only concern was to get cured from the disease.

Thilakavatiyar gave a word of solace to her brother and said that good days have already arrived and asked him to have faith. She taught him the mantra referred to as Shiva Panchakshari (Namah Shivaya) and he repeated this with all devotion. He smeared his body with Vibhuthi, the sacred ash, a symbol of Shaivism. Then he went around the Shiva temple and worshipped Lord Shiva with devotion, not thinking of anything else.

The Lord took pity on him as he was satisfied by his sincere devotion. Shiva gave him a special gift of composing poems, praising the Lord. As soon as this happened, he sang a poem to atone for the sin of undermining the Lord, as a symbol of repentance. By the time he completed singing the first poem, the unbearable affliction from which he was suffering from vanished instantaneously. Then the Lord suggested that hereafter he will be known by the new name Thirunavukkarasu, roughly meaning the king of divine speech. He became famous by that name and posterity does not even remember his old names, Marulnikkiyar and Dharmasena. This is also symbolic of the change in his attitude towards spiritualism.

From then on, Thirunavukkarasu became a great devotee of Shiva. He always carried a hoe which is generally used to loosening the soil or scrapping the weeds. Again this is symbolic of our mind being loosened meaning that we make way for good thoughts. We also have lot of predetermined ideas in the form of weeds and these weeds also should be weeded out or destroyed so that spiritual ideas can make an entry into our lives.

But people Jain faith looked Thirunavukkarasu with suspicion and carried false accusations against him. They went to the Pallava King Mahendravarman who was ruling at Kanchipuram and requested him to punish this saint for revolting against royalty. The King believed this and sent his soldiers to bring Thirunavukkarasu to Kanchipuram. But the saint said that he was not a slave of the king and he was only a slave of the Almighty.

The soldiers threatened that he would be put to death for disrespecting the order of the King. The saint went to Kanchi where the king tried to kill him. He was put in a lime kiln. But nothing happened to him. He began singing poems in praise of Lord Shiva. He was made to swallow poison but nothing happened to him. Then King ordered his royal elephant to trample him, but nothing happened. Then they threw him into the sea tying a stone to his body. The saint wrote the mantraomnamasshivaya and the stone began to float. King Mahendravarman later requested the saint that he be pardoned and requested for his blessings.

Then the saint went on a pilgrimage to Shaiva Kshetras including Chidambaram. He visited many Shaiva temples including Kashi. Thirunavukkarasu was past eighty years and prayed to Shiva to permit him to cast off his body. Thirunavukkarasu is said to have composed 4,900 verses but only 312 are now available.

Thirunavukkarasu has become immortal by his conduct, devotion to Shiva and by his compositions. Let us study at least some of them and be blessed.

The Roads Not To Be Taken...

Mysuru, July 15 (MK, MTY&NNN)- The road next to Freedom Fighters Park in Subbarayanakere is full of potholes. With the monsoon in full flow the road turns into a mini lake.

The local residents trying to draw the attention of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to repair the road had staged a novel protest by performing death ceremony rituals. In spite of this the MCC has turned a blind eye.

It is more than ten years since Dewan's Road in Ward No. 36 limits in Chamaraja Mohalla was asphalted. The road is full of potholes and it is very difficult for the vehicles to negotiate this road.

Even the storm water drain is filled with waste and hence the rainwater instead of flowing in the drain flows on the road thus creating a mini lake. This results in the whole area stinking and the residents fear that it could lead to the spread of communicable diseases.

The slushy Dewan's Road with crater-like potholes.

N.S. Road too resembles slushy field

If the Dewan's Road is full of potholes, the road parallel to it is no different. The experience of driving or walking on Narayana Shastry Road is like wading through slushy field and most often than not, one skids and falls.

The utterly neglected Freedom Fighters Park in Subbarayanakere.

Garbage carts: There is also a college on this road and the Pourakarmikas after collecting the garbage in the push carts transport it to the big lorries which come and pick it up. Later, the carts are parked near the college. The foul smell is causing lot of problems to the students and the nearby residents.

Drunkards' haven: As night descends, the Freedom Fighters Park turns into a haven for drunkards and louts. Lot of illegal activities also go on. In spite of bringing this to the notice of MCC officials nothing has happened. As the houses are very close to the park, residents are forced to bear such nuisances.

Park turns to copse: With the MCC completely neglecting the upkeep of the Freedom Fighters Park, the whole place has turned into a copse, especially on the side which opens to Dewan's Road. There is no street-light here and the complaints to the Police have not worked, allege the residents.

The residents are urging the authorities concerned to at least wake up now, swing into action like they did when they restored the subway on Sayyaji Road and solve the problems faced by the tax-paying citizens.

The Mysuru City Corporation had started the underground drainage work on Narayana Shastry Road at the junction of Vinoba Road and Devaraj Urs Road. In order to install the pipes for the underground drainage the road was dug right in the middle. However, the work has come to a standstill for reasons best known.

A report was published in this newspaper about this and the MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha had visited the spot and promised to finish the work in four days. However, the road is still in the same pathetic condition.

Asked for the reasons, the Corporation officials said that as the mud that was dug has got into the pipes, the work has been stopped. But they have covered the road that was dug up and the remaining mud is scattered on the road. As it has been raining continuously since the last couple of days, the road has become slushy due to movement of vehicles.

Nearly 15 bike riders have skidded and fallen down in the last couple of days. The residents, seeing these mishaps, have urged the authorities concerned to immediately complete the road work.

Release of water from KRS reservoir

Boating activities suspended at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary

One washed away, another rescued by fishermen

Mysuru, July 15 (KS)- Following the release of about 50,000 cusecs of water from Krishnaraja Sagar (KRS) reservoir yesterday, the Forest Department has suspended its boating activities at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary as the water level in River Cauvery has increased but the bird sanctuary is open for public.

The bird sanctuary is located on the banks of River Cauvery downstream of the KRS reservoir near Srirangapatna and once water is released from the reservoir, it gushes downstream resulting in the increase of water level of the river in the sanctuary and the Forest Department, keeping the safety of tourist lives in mind, have withdrawn the boating activities. Boating activities will resume once the water level decreases and remain stable.

No threat to birds: Meanwhile, DCF (Wildlife) Siddaramappa Chalkapure, speaking to SOM, said that there is no threat to birds at the bird sanctuary following the release of water from KRS as of now as most of the migratory birds have left the place after roosting and will come back only in November. Some of the regular birds have laid eggs on tree tops and there is no threat to them.

He further said that they have put up barricades to prevent tourists from going near the boating place and have increased the security there. "As for the damages caused due to increase in water, we cannot come to any conclusions right now. We can only come to know about it after the water in the river recedes," he added.

Meanwhile, sources said that there will be a threat to the bird sanctuary only if over one lakh cusecs of water is released from the KRS Reservoir which had happened in the early 90s when more than two lakh cusecs of water was released from KRS.

One washed away, another rescued near Bangaradoddi check dam: An unidentified man was reportedly washed away in River Cauvery, while fishermen rescued another man who was stuck in the river for nearly an hour yesterday near Bangaradoddi check dam close to Srirangapatna.

Mahadev

35-year-old Mahadev of Kyatanahalli in Pandavapur taluk is the fisherman who was rescued.

Mahadev had gone to the river alone and as he ventured into the waters, there was a sudden increase in the water flow following which Mahadev got stuck in the river. He managed to survive for an hour before he was rescued by a few fishermen who noticed him.

Meanwhile, local people said that an unidentified man is believed to have been drowned in the river a few meters away from where Mahadev was rescued. But Police said that they are yet to ascertain if the man died of drowning. The Police, who found an abandoned two-wheeler, were trying to locate the owner of the vehicle.

He was addressing the women Head Constables at the inauguration of the 13-day reorientation programme at the Police Training School recently and said that there is only Head Constable and not man or woman Head Constable.

In the changes and amendments to the law, the role of women Police has increased.

For instance in the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO Act), sexual harassment of women at work place and laws related to women, the women constables have a big role to play, there is also a need to understand about cyber crime and investigative skills, he said.

Keeping in mind that the Head Constable is an important fulcrum, they should concentrate on the reorientation programme to get the maximum benefit, he added.

Mysuru Police Training School Principal Dr. Dharanidevi Malgatti, Vice-Principal P. Umesh (Dy.SP), Assistant Director of Prosecution S. Pushpalatha, AAO S.L. Umamaheshwara, Inspectors S. Nagesh, G.N. Ramesh, Y.P. Chandrakala, SI Jayakanthamani, Guest Lecturer and Dy.SP (Retd.) J.B. Rangaswamy and other staff were present on the occasion.

Devanur Lake bund becomes a place to segregate waste

Wastes, which are collected from households and dumped on Devanur Lake bund for segregation, being carried in a garbage van. Picture also shows some waste being left behind.

Mysuru, July 15 (RK&KS)- Some contractors, who are entrusted with collection and segregating waste collected from households, are using the Devanur Lake bund to dump the collected waste for segregation, which has irked the residents of the surrounding areas.

After door-to-door collection of household waste, the entire waste is brought and dumped on the lake bund for segregating them into dry and wet waste, but while taking them back to garbage plants some wastes are left behind which emanates foul smell.

On Tuesday, after the wastes were dumped on the lake bund, it was segregated and later while taking them back in garbage vehicles, representatives of Devanur Kere Ulisi Vedike Azar Mohammed and Zahir questioned contractor Mahadevaiah that though there were garbage carrying vehicles on the spot, why only half of the waste was being transported and not full. They advised the Contractor not to leave behind waste after being segregated as they would emanate foul smell which is destroying the environment in the surroundings and informed the matter to the MCC Health Officer.

Meanwhile, MCC Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj, speaking to SOM, said that he had no information that waste was being segregated on Devanur Lake bund and added that he would collect information from the concerned Health Inspector and then initiate action.
